GOVERNMENT ETHICS REQUIREMENTS: The Department of the Navy is committed to maintaining an ethical culture and upholding the principles of ethical conduct. As a Department of the Navy employee, you will be subject to the Standards of Ethical Conduct for Employees of the Executive Branch as well as the criminal conflict of interest statutes. If you are a new Government employee, or as a new employee to this Department, you will be required to receive initial ethics orientation within 3 months of appointment. If you have any questions about these requirements, or any government ethics issue, you should contact the ethics counselor for your organization which will be located in your local Counsel or Judge Advocate General's office. If you need assistance locating your local ethics counselor please email ethics@navy.mil

Supervisory positions are subject to 5 C.F.R. § 2638.103, Government Ethics Responsibilities of Supervisors: Every supervisor in the executive branch has a heightened personal responsibility for advancing government ethics. It is imperative that supervisors serve as models of ethical behavior for subordinates. Supervisors have a responsibility to help ensure that subordinates are aware of their ethical obligations under the Standards of Conduct and that subordinates know how to contact agency ethics officials. Supervisors are also responsible for working with agency ethics officials to help resolve conflicts of interest and enforce government ethics laws and regulations, including those requiring certain employees to file financial disclosure reports. In addition, supervisors are responsible, when requested, for assisting agency ethics officials in evaluating potential conflicts of interest and identifying positions subject to financial disclosure requirements. You are also required to review the 14 General Principles of Ethical Conduct at 5 C.F.R. § 2635.101: <https://www.law.cornell.edu/cfr/text/5/2635.101>
